JOB PROFILE

JP4 - Access, Door & Gate Automation Systems Technican

Introduction:

Coleman Electronics Ltd. are seeking to employ a skilled engineer / technician within the above sector. The suitable candidate will possess the required skill set along with an appropriate degree of professionalism required to join or vastly experienced and highly successful team.

This position involves the installation and maintenance of Gate, Barrier Automation & Access Control Systems. You will be a key part of a team that supplies all types of automatic gates, electric gates, driveway gates, wooden gates, barriers, rising bollards, automatic door openers and access control systems to a broad range of clients in various sectors including retail, commercial buildings, hospitals, educational, government agencies and local authorities.

As a Gate, Barrier and Access Control Systems Automation Engineer your key responsibilities will include:

- Installing, servicing and maintaining automatic gates, barriers and access control to the latest European standards.
- Attending emergency call out when required.
- Diagnose and rectify basic faults with electro-mechanical and mechanical products.
- Direct reporting to the Technical Manager.

Skills Required:

- 3 years+ industry related experience.
- Experience with the following systems:
    - FAAC
    - CAME
    - RECORD
    - DITEC
    - DORMA
- Good customer interaction skills.
- An engineering degree would be advantageous.

JOB PROFILE

Role Responsibilities:

- Installation of the above system in line with company procedures and industry standards.
- Maintenance of the above systems in line with company procedures and industry standards.
- Programme, Test and Commission each of the system components.
- Demonstrations to the end user on the operations of the above systems.
- Complete all required documentation electronically/on paper from customers daily in line with the company procedures.
- Represent the company and yourself to the highest levels of service in line with the company procedures.
- Must be able work on own initiative and as part of a team.
- As this is a field-based role, the successful individual must be prepared to travel on a regular basis and provide cover in all geographical areas throughout the island of Ireland when required.
- Ability to spec up jobs, including creating bill f quantities for pricing department.

Skills & Qualifications:

- City & Guilds Craftsperson, Electrical/Electronic Degree or Mechatronics Degree is required.
- PC skills are essential especially with focus on IT networking.
- A passion for delivering excellent customer service, installations and maintenance is essential.
- Full clean driving licence is essential.
- Safe pass and Garda vetting certification is desirable.
- Previous installation experience is required with at least 3 years experience with a recognised security company.
- Training completed with up to date security equipment is desirable.

COLEMAN
ELECTRONICS

JOB PROFILE

Remuneration:

This position comes with:

→ Continuous Training.

→ Competitive Salary.

→ Career progression Opportunities.

Location:
The post is based from our Ballina Office and will require continuous travel on a daily basis. As this is a field-based role, the successful individual must be prepared to travel on a regular basis and provide cover in all geographical areas throughout the island of Ireland when required.

Applications:

Coleman Electronics Ltd operates a strict policy of reference checking for all suitable candidates. Applications for the position should be made by emailing your CV to info@colemanelectronics.ie.

Company Information:

Coleman Electronics Ltd. has become established as one of the market leaders in the electronic & security industry in the West & North West of Ireland, we also operate contracts nationally. Our Head office is based in Ballina, Co. Mayo with offices in Sligo & Galway also. . Our contact details are:

Coleman Electronics Ltd
Ardnaree
Ballina,
Co. Mayo.

Tel: 096 72858
Email: info@colemanelectronics.ie
web: www.colemanelectronics.ie